One More Day Left of Our Six-Day August Sale of Fine Fur Coats

FALL STYLES Talk No. 6

For separate coats ultra-large buttons in rich dark colors are the mode. Bars or stripes of metal are used to enhance the more elaborate novelties.

For suits flatter shapes are used in pyroxylin and ivory. Old effects in round shapes are a feature. Dark colors are dominant. Novelty buttons will be employed for trimming dark waists of silk, chiffon or crepe.

METAL AND COLORED LACES

Interest in laces will revolve chiefly about fancy effects. Novelty where-in metal is featured in combination with delicate colors will win first honors. Silver will have preference, particularly on nets in such shades as shrimp pink, Copenhagen blue, and gold. Rich colored novelties with designs in gold will be represented.

Increased attention will be given to bands. Plouncings up to 27 inch will have a share of the demand.

Plain silk nets will continue fashionable. Chantille, mulline and fine net-top laces will assume importance with high class trade as the winter season develops.

DRESS TRIMMINGS

The rogue for dark street dresses of the tailored and demi-tailored character will encourage the use of silk fringes, novelty embroidered motifs and bands, beaded ball pendants and tassels.

The newest beaded novelties are in rich, subdued Indian colors.

For evening dress garniture beaded and spangled effects divide honors with metal novelties, particularly silver. Bands will be stronger than for several seasons past.

A Short Time to Do Something Worth While --a Very Long Time to Wait For Such Another Opportunity

Today and tomorrow, the last two days of the August Fur Coat Sale, are the days that prove whether a sale is a substantial thing and a real benefit, with a real backing of merchandise, or a real bubble, with only a bubble's backing of foamy talk, the kind of talk that turns to nothing, or next to nothing, when you try to substantiate it.

We like these last days especially. We like them because they are the days on which a sale of this kind proves itself and proves the things we have said about it. So there's only a short time to do something worth while—choose the Coat you like best; that is if you intend buying one this winter.

Special Notice

All prices on these twenty-two different models of Fur Coats are off tomorrow at store closing. Women who want to get the benefit of the lower prices should come at once. Will hold the garment until later on, by making a small deposit; or, should you have a charge account the purchase will be put on November statement.

Some of the Ladies Requested Our Getting Skins to Match Hats

Serge Dresses in midnight blue, African brown, Hague blue, ripe green, burgundy and black. $12.50 to $21.50.

Get Your New Corset Before You Have the New Dress Fitted

Warner's Rust Proof, R. and G. Redfern and Fro-la-set (pronounced Fro-la-say)—a score of new models—one such which laces in front and costs only $1.50; and we are particularly glad to have it, because the popularity of this sort of corset increases daily.

Another is a young girl's corset, with short bones, for $1.

Still another is very heavily boned over the abdomen to suit large women. This is $5.00.

And so it goes through the entire list of twenty; there's some point of special interest about every one.

ENGINE TRUCK

Of Passenger Train Derailed by a Boulder Causing Delay of Several Hours.

A boulder on the track came near causing a serious wreck of eastbound passenger train No. 4 on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Sunday night between Long Run and Morgantown. As it was, only the front truck of the engine was thrown from the rails and the engineer succeeded in stopping the train before any damage was done. The accident occurred not far from a bridge.

As the Grafton wreck train was engaged with a freight wreck on the Monongahela River division near Fairmont, a number of trainmen and mechanics were taken to the scene from Salem on a yard engine, and after working several hours, the truck was replaced and what little damage done repaired. The train arrived at the Clarksburg station at 2:30 o'clock Monday morning.

JAPANESE PLAY.

There will be a Japanese play at the colored Trinity Methodist Episcopal church on Ben street Thursday night entitled "The Sun Goddess." A musical program will also be rendered. Perry Aster, of Fairmont, will favor the audience with several solos. All are invited to attend.

HUNDRED SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS ARE ENGAGED FOR FAIR

Hoaglan Brothers' Hippodrome Events to Be Included in Big List.

A hundred special attractions have been provided for the Central West Virginia Fair, the annual exposition of which is to be held on the big grounds here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 12, 13 and 14.

Among the numerous free open-air features will be the celebrated Hoaglan Brothers' Hippodrome events, which have been booked for the fair at an enormous expense. The Hoaglan attractions will consist of daily programs of hippodrome events, which will take place around the half mile racing track. There will be chariot racing, bare-back contests, hurdle events and running saddle races. As a branch freight track of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad runs close to the fair grounds, Hoaglan Brothers will be enabled to park their special train close at hand and give every number of the sensational features listed in their regular program.

Big Baby Show.

Another big attraction at the fair this year will be a baby show, which will take place at 2 o'clock the afternoon of Wednesday, September 13, the second day of the big exposition. No entrance fee will be required for this contest, in view of which a large number of entries is expected. Valuable prizes, including silver cups, will be awarded to babies receiving the best score in appearance, development and healthiness. For the championship classes prizes will be offered for the handsomest baby, the prettiest red-headed baby and the healthiest pair of twins.

Another special attraction, in the exclusive possession of which the Central West Virginia Fair outshines all other West Virginia fairs, will be a mammoth roller coaster, built this year at a cost of $15,500. This is one of the largest roller coasters in the United States, being of the same model as those built at Coney Island, N. Y., Riverview park in Chicago, Willow Grove park in Philadelphia and one or two other large cities. It is absolutely safe, being electrically operated with special safety clutches and other devices.

Many Tented Attractions.

It would be tiresome to go on with a specific enumeration of the many other special attractions to be seen at the fair this year. There will be fifty or sixty tented shows and a number requiring special buildings. A carnival will be held every afternoon and every evening along the big broad midway, which in itself is a big feature of the fair. Band concerts and band contests will be featured. Altogether, the Central West Virginia Fair this year will be the biggest and grandest exposition ever held on the huge grounds here. Nobody in central West Virginia can afford to miss it.
